

Upcoming Events

Friday, September 9 we'll be kicking off the ILO Institute Decarbonization Strategy Community with a gathering in Menlo Park, CA, at the headquarters of The Mayfield Fund. Chandrakant Patel, Chief Engineer at HP will be our keynote speaker; additional speakers will include John Perkins, Senior Corporate Counsel for Sustainability at Salesforce, Damien Gerard, VP for Carbon Capture and Storage at Schlumberger, and others. All members will be welcome; nonmembers please inquire regarding an invitation.

Wednesday, September 14, please join us in Washington DC along with the head of the Defense Technical Information Center to explore approaches to mobilizing very large collections of information and knowledge to support new ventures and new ways of doing business.

Friday, September 16, the ILO Decarbonization Strategy Community launches in Detroit, hosted by the World Economic Forum's Centre for Advanced Manufacturing and in partnership with CMS/Consumers Energy. Our keynote speaker will be CMS Chief Strategy Officer DV Rao. Additional speakers will include Chandrasaker Subramanion, head of global EV fleets and sustainable transportation at Amazon, and Kristie Deiullis, Managing Director for Decarbonization at Black & Veatch.

Monday, September 19, join us in Austin TX for a day of conversation and knowledge sharing about how large organizations in the public and the private sectors are shaping strategy, sharing knowledge, and organizing work differently in the late-COVID era. What has really changed? Where are the new tools? How can we capture and amplify the positive changes, and minimize the new limitations? The core of our conversation will be actual lessons being lived by the large firms around the table.

Monday October 10, join us in New York for a day focused on how and why successful disruptors often become the new, inflexible incumbents, and how to fight against that deviation toward the mean.

Tuesday, October 11, the ILO Decarbonization Strategy Community launches in New York City, hosted by Columbia University. Our keynote speaker will be Bruce Usher, a senior faculty member at Columbia's Climate School and Graduate School of Business, and head of the Tamer Center for Social Enterprise at the business school. Bruce comes from the investment world, and is a key link between decarbonization advocates in large operating firms and their access to new capital. Additional speakers will include Ann Darby, Chief Sustainability Officer at Colgate-Palmolive, Eric Davis, head of ConEdison's Utility of Future program.

Monday, October 24, please join us for a gathering in London. More details to come.

Wednesday, October 26, please join us for a gathering in Munich. More details to come.
